

UPCOMING BOOST COLLABORATIVE TRAINING

Grant Writing 101

Monday, July 12, 2010

9:00am-9:30am- Sign In & Networking

9:30am-12:30pm- Training

Location: KIT's National Training Center on Inclusion
2820 Roosevelt Road, Ste. 201
San Diego, CA 92106

The goal of this workshop is to clearly and simply describe the processes involved in writing a successful grant. This presentation is designed for those who have little or no grant writing experience. The discussion will focus on the steps that are necessary for any funding request: identifying need, clarifying agency/project mission and goals, building partnerships, documenting success. An overview of a typical grant will be provided along with suggestions for successful proposal writing.

Workshop Outline

- Overview of the grant process
- Different types of funding require different types of approaches
- Planning and project development tips
- Reading the RFP (Request for Proposals), following instructions
- Review of standard RFP sections
- Using a Logic Model as a planning tool
- Suggestions for successful proposal writing
- Questions and Comments

Target Audience: Elementary, Middle School, and High School Administrators

Trainer: Jane Sharp, Consultant- Sharp Ideas, Allentown, NJ

Cost: $30 per person (or $35 if paying by credit card)

REGISTER NOW!

To register for this training, or see a list of trainings hosted by the BOOST Collaborative please visit www.boostcollaborative.org/calendar or contact Christine McKenna at 619-23-BOOST (619-232-6678) or Christine@boostcollaborative.org.

Email Marketing by

